WILLIAM BROWN BURIAL AT 2 O'CLOCK TODAY

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Oct. 22.-The death last Thursday of William Brown, in this city, re-moves from the drama of life one of the day of William Brown, in this city, removes from the drama of life one of the most noted characters in northern Utah. In 1818, when the Mormon battalion was organized at Council Bluffs, one of the five hundred men who presented themselves for enlistment was a man named James Brown. He was popular among the men and was chosen Captain of company C. He served faithfully and well until the epidemic struck the company in New Mexico, when he was assigned to care for the sick. Later he came to Utah, arriving in Salt Lake on July 27, 1847, only three days after the ploneers. Here he met Capt Goodyear, from whom he purchased a large tract of land, a greet pertion of which constitutes what is now a part of the site of Ogden.

Captain Brown had a family of eight children, viz.: Alexander, Jesse, Namey, Daniel, James, Frank, Moroni and William the subject of this sketch.

William reached Ogden a year later than his father, and for a number of years worked on the farm. He was a soler, Industrious youth, and became popular with all who knew him.

In the fall of 182 he was chosen Sheriff of Weber county, and served until 182. Here William Brown made a record that is excelled by no other officer in Utah's history. Young and of athletic build, a stranger to fear, he was the terror of crooke throughout the West. He was a veritable bloodhound when on the track of a criminal, and never was known to give up the chase for one he was anxious to get. He was Sheriff of Ogden during the famous Morrisite war.

William Brown bad five children: William Brown of Guden, Lafayette Brown. Ogden. Rose Brown, Ogden; and Mrs. Eva Barnes, Ogden.

The funeral of the late William Brown will be held from the Second ward meeter.

"First-Class Men" deals with the views and extravagances of officers, their intense caste spirit and the false attitude of society toward the officer class. The entire novel was read in court.

Shopping Traits.

A London paper quotes a shop girl as saying that the English woman can gon-crally be persunded to take this or that, whether she wants it or not, and that she does not often see that she gets value for her money. The English are also courteous and considerate. It appears that Americans, on the other hand, give the greatest trouble of all; they are afraid of being cheated, they want to make sure greatest trouble of all; they are afraid of being cheated, they want to make sure before they buy that they could not get the same thing for less money elsewhere, and they are never courteous. As shop-pers, it is French women, however, who command the greatest admiration, we are told. They always know exactly what they want and will take nothing else.

Romance of a Foundling. A curious and most romantic incident is reported to have happened near Evreux (Eure) a few days ago. Between 5 and 7 p. m. a motor-car, minus the regulation number and letter, in which were four passengers, one of them a woman, was observed on the great high road which leads from Paris to Cherbourg, coming from the direction of L'Hotelleric (Calvados).

which leads from Paris to Cherbourg, coming from the direction of L'Hotelleris (Calvados).

While the motor-car was in the commune of Fontaine-in-Souvet it was seen to stop, and one of the occupants got down with a bulky parcel in his arms, which he placed on the roadside not far from a farm. When he had taken his seat again the car moved off, but it did not leave the vicinity until two peasants on their way home stopped to examine the curious bundle. At that moment the motor-car darted off at full speed in the direction of Paris.

When the laborers picked up the parcel they discovered that it was a cradle containing a newly-born child, and they decided to take it to the Mayor. One of them, however, suggested that it would be advisable first to take the cradle into the nearest house, so as to have a closer look at it, with a view to finding some clue to its identification. His astonishment may be guessed when he found pinned beneath the baby's pillow fourteen banknotes of $200 each, representing the sum of $280, to which were attached a sheet of paper bearing the words:

"Whoever will take care of this child until its majority will have good fortune assured to him during his lifetime, on the express condition that he never seeks to penetrate the secret of the birth of the child, the issue of one of the noblest families of England."

DISEASES OF MEN

Treated Successfully.

I do not treat all diseases, I treat men only, and cure them to stay cured. I challenge the medical profession for a case of VARI-COCELE, STRICTURE, CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON, NER-VOUS DEBILITY OR ANY WEAKNESS OF THE GENITO URI-NARY ORGANS of men that will not readily yield to my treatment. To these maladies alone I have earnestly devoted my whole professional career, and claim advantages over other physicians in their treatment. If you have treated elsewhere without success you are especially invited to come and see me. I will do by you as I would want you to do by me if our cases were reversed. My counsel will cost you nothing, and my terms are reasonable and within your reach. Physicians having stubborn cases to treat are cordially invited to consult me. I give to each patient a legal contract in writing to hold for my promises. Hundreds right here in Salt Lake have recently been made well and happy by me, and cheerfully commend my cures to their afflicted fellow men. What I have done for them I can do for you. Every man needing medical attention should carefully read my specialty, which follows:

My offices are equipped with every popular appliance for the successful treatment of my specialties and are centrally located for the convenience of the professional, business and laboring man. My advice is free to those who need treatment, and you will be at liberty to avail yourself of my treatment or not, as you see fit. I treat and guarantee a permanent cure in the following described diseases:

STRICTURE

My cure dissolves the Stricture completely and removes every obstruction from the Urinary passages, allays all inflammation, reduces the Prostate Gland, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys, invigorates the organs and restores health and soundness to every part of the body affected by the disease.

Contagious blood poison

My special form of treatment for this disease is practically the result of my life work, and is indorsed by the best physicians in this and foreign countries. It contains no dangerous drugs or injurious medicines of any kind. It goes to the very bottom of the disease and forces out every particle of the impurity. Soon every sign and symptom of the disease will disappear completely and forever, and the whole system is cleansed, purified, restored to as healthful and pure a condition as before contracting the disease.

NERVOUS, WEAK MEN

My cure for weak men stops every drain of vigor and builds up the muscular and nervous system, purifies and enriches the blood, cleaners and heals the bladder and kidneys, invigorates the liver, revives the spirits, brightens the intellect, and, above and beyond all, restores the wasted power of weakened organs and lest manhood.

GENITO-URINARY DISEASES

Such as Varicocele, Cystitis or Inflammation of the Bladder, with resultant kidney affections, receive most skillful and expert treatment and a perfect and permanent cure is guaranteed in every case undertaken. My method of treating these chronic and complicated ailments is painless and without a resort to surgery. The affected organs are soon restored to their natural vigor and vitality and the patient is made as strong and healthy in this respect as he ever was
